

Privacy Policy

The Singla Eye Hospital is committed to respecting the privacy of individuals using this website. The site does not collect any personal information about those using the site, or use cookies to track or log information about users. We do analyse the server log files which contain details of the Internet address (IP address) of computers using the site, pages looked at, the times of day and the type of web browser used. None of this information is linked to individuals. Where users provide us with information or feedback, information is treated in the strictest confidence.

This privacy statement discloses the privacy practices for <http://www.singlaeyehospital.com>. It applies solely to this website.

Cookies

A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's hard drive while they are visiting a particular website. It contains simple information about the user's identity but no personal information. When the user closes their browser, the cookie is destroyed.

Notification of changes

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on our homepage so our users are always aware of what information we collect and how we use it.

Forms

Any information submitted through forms on the website is transferred to us by email, and will be dealt with by us in accordance with data protection legislation. Emails are not encrypted before being sent to us and, as the internet are not always totally secure, users are sending the information at their own risk.
